Internship Program

Mission Taiwan offers an internship program to college and seminary students who wish to gain a deeper understanding of missions.

What you will experience while serving alongside us:

- Real life on the field mission experience
- Learn about Taiwanese / Chinese culture first hand
- Learn how to and actually share the Gospel with people who have no biblical worldview, understanding or background
- Understand the real world of Buddhism, Taoism and folk religion as it is lived out pragmatically in daily Taiwanese life.
- Learn about raising support and donor relationships
- Work with multiple missionaries and see how different people bring their personalities, gifts and experiences to the mission field
- Learn about different types of missions (service, evangelism, business as mission, church planting, direct partnership, collegiate ministry)

What will I do?

You will spend time with us as we conduct our regular mission work here in Taichung, participate in English camps on University campuses, help with follow-up, share the Gospel, pass out Bibles, work and visit with other missionaries, learn about Taiwanese culture, visit students as well as spend time exploring and reflecting.

What you will gain:

Whether you end up on the mission field or not you will learn how to live as an alien. The experience of being a foreigner in Taiwan will help you live more Biblically and Christlike as you return to your home culture by enabling you to see what it is like to be in a culture but not part of it. The experiences you gain here will give you new insights into how to reach into any culture and bring the Gospel to bear, not only to the souls of men and women but into the real situations of life.
